National Gallery of Art - Exhibition

Religious artists of 17th-century Spain created arrestingly realistic sculptures and paintings that still have the power to shock the senses and stir the soul. From February 28 through May 31, 2010, the National Gallery of Art on the National Mall will be the only U.S. venue for a major exhibition revealing the relationship between these art forms in The Sacred Made Real: Spanish Painting and Sculpture, 1600-1700. Many of the sculptures have never been exhibited away from the Spanish churches, convents, and monasteries where they continue to inspire many. For more information on the exhibition, scheduled events, and to plan your visit, click www.nga.gov/sacred.
